

373 Gilbott Road, Birmingham.
England.

March 28. 1894.

Sir,

I have been endeavouring to obtain the "Annali dell'Ufficio Centrale di Meteorologia e di Geodinamici" from the commencement, and have just been informed by my London bookseller that they are not sold at all.

Under these circumstances, I venture to ask if you would be so good as to inform me how I might obtain them. Being Secretary of the British Association Earth Tremor Committee, and also having been engaged for several years in studying the earthquakes of this country, I am anxious to know and keep myself acquainted with the seismological work that has been, and is being, done in Italy.

I have the honour to remain, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Charles Davison.

I beg to ask your acceptance of my last memoir, "On the Annual and Semi-annual Seismic Periods."
