

which I shall read at once.

I have been so busy since my return that I have not yet examined your copy sent. I am with sincere respect & regard

Yours very truly

My dear Sir

Your letter dated the 6th of August has just been forwarded to me by the assistant secretary of the astronomical society

It appears to have arrived in his absence and by some mistake to have been mislaid. I hope that this will not be too late to reach you before you leave Rome. If you come to London in November it will give me great pleasure if you will stop with me while you are in London - My house is 13 Hunter Street Brunswick Square - but I am not able to return from the north of England till the 4th of November. We will then talk about the clock and I will do anything else I can to be of service to you. When in Paris three or four weeks ago visiting M. Thollon I heard that you thought of going with them to the Pacific next May. I am also hoping to go. Thank you much for your handsome mention
