My dear Sir

I see that the Ancient Observatory in its present form has already been figured in "Nature" from the Journal of the National Spectroscopic Society.

While in Paris a few days ago I went over the Observatory and was very much interested. I have just written to Prof. Leguine who I suppose has reached Odessa by this time.

Did you return at once to Rome, or by way of Milan and Florence.

I shall be very pleased if you find it convenient to come to England soon: and I trust meanwhile if I can be of any possible use to you in this Country you will let me know.
